

EXPLORE ---KNOW---COMMUNICATE

CONCEPTS

CONTENT

This concept asks children to think about what the artwork is about. Who or what is it about? It asks if the artwork is a realistic representation of the subject matter or if it has been exaggerated or distorted. As children progress in their appreciation and analysis of artworks they may consider if the art is surface deep or if there are any hidden messages or meanings communicated to the viewer with symbols or metaphors.

FORM

This concept asks children to think about the composition of artworks - how they have been arranged. They may consider the colour scheme that has been used. Is it, for example, a harmonious one or one built up of contrasts? They may consider if there is one or more dominant colours. The children may consider if there is a focal point, dominant shape or figure; if there has been a choice made about the position of a figure in the piece; what is going on in the foreground and background; and in 3D work have some features been given more importance? They may consider if there are recurring shapes, lines, rhythms, forms, which determine the design of the work.

PROCESS

This concept deals with how artworks have been made and what they have been made with. Children consider what materials, tools, processes and techniques the artist has used. They may think about the stages the artist may have gone through to make the art. Might the artist, for example, have made supporting studies sketches, photographs, collages or stencils? Children might consider if the artwork was done quickly or if it evolved slowly over a long period. They will think about the art skills the artist used to create the work. For example cutting, tearing, colour matching, roiling, joining, observational drawing, weaving etc.

MOOD

This concept asks the children to consider the mood created by the artwork. They will connect with it on a personal level answering questions like: 'how does it make you feel?'; 'does it remind you of a feeling or emotion?'; 'can you imagine what the artist's feelings were while producing the work?'; 'is the work quiet/noisy, soothing/disturbing, happy/sad, relaxed/jarring etc.' Children may be asked if they like it and why/why not. As children progress they might explain how the artist has created the mood in the piece through use of colour, texture, shape, images etc.

EYFS

The statutory EYFS framework aims to ensure that all pupils reach the early learning goal of:

- Safely using and exploring a variety of materials, tools and techniques, experimenting with colour, design, texture, form and function.
- Sharing their creations, explaining the process they have used.
- Making use of props and materials when role playing characters in narratives and stories.

SUBJECT CONTENT KS1

The national curriculum for art and design aims to ensure that all pupils:

- produce creative work, exploring their ideas and recording their experiences
- become proficient in drawing, painting, sculpture and other art, craft and design techniques
- evaluate and analyse creative works using the language of art, craft and design
- know about great artists, craft makers and designers, and understand the historical and cultural development of their art forms.

Pupils should be taught:

- to use a range of materials creatively to design and make products
- to use drawing, painting and sculpture to develop and share their ideas, experiences and imagination
- to develop a wide range of art and design techniques in using colour, pattern, texture, line, shape, form and space
- about the work of a range of artists, craft makers and designers, describing the differences and similarities between different practices and disciplines, and making links to their own work.

SUBJECT CONTENT KS2

The national curriculum for art and design aims to ensure that all pupils:

- produce creative work, exploring their ideas and recording their experiences
- become proficient in drawing, painting, sculpture and other art, craft and design techniques
- evaluate and analyse creative works using the language of art, craft and design
- know about great artists, craft makers and designers, and understand the historical and cultural development of their art forms.

Pupils should be taught to develop their techniques, including their control and their use of materials, with creativity, experimentation and an increasing awareness of different kinds of art, craft and design.

Pupils should be taught:

- to create sketch books to record their observations and use them to review and revisit ideas
- to improve their mastery of art and design techniques, including drawing, painting and sculpture with a range of materials [for example, pencil, charcoal, paint, clay]
- about great artists, architects and designers in history.
